The wa - ter is				wide,				I cannot get				o'er.
There is a				ship				and she sails the				sea.
I lean'd my				back				a - gainst an				oak,
I put my				hand				in a ro - sy				bush,
Oh, love is				warm				when it is				new,

Nei - ther have				I				the wings to				fly.
She's load-ed				down				as deep can				be,
Think - ing it				was				a trus - ty				tree;
Think - ing the				sweet -				est flower to				find
And love is				sweet -				est when it is				true;
